OUTSIDE UNIONS PICKET FAIRLESS

Pickets from the Longshoremen's Union and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union take up positions at the main gate of U.S. Steel's Fairless Works as police stand by.

About 50 pickets from the Longshoremen's Union and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union manned two gates at U.S. Steel's Fairless Works in Falls Township throughout the night to protest steelworkers loading a company - owned ship, the S. S. Columbia.

The pickets appeared at the main gate and the Bordentown Road gate shortly before midnight as some 1,200 steelworkers arrived at the plant for the midnight to 8 a.m. shift.

Still Picket

The pickets continued their march before both gates when the 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. shift arrived for work this morning.

Estimates varied on the number of steelworkers of both shifts who turned back rather than cross the picket lines.

Harold Keane, a spokesman for the International Longshoremen's Union, Local 1291, said about 80 per cent of the steelworkers observed the picket line.

Estimates Vary

Falls Township Police Chief Franklin R. Kirby estimated about 50 per cent of the workers refused to cross the lines.

A spokesman for U.S. Steel, however, said the majority of steelworkers showed up at the plant and operations are normal.

But while the figures on the number of workers who entered the plant may be controversial, there was no question the picket lines created a traffic problem.

Automobiles on S. Pennsylvania Ave., leading to the main gate; and on Bordentown Road, leading to a second gate, were backed up for more than a mile.

Chief Kirby, who had 21 men stationed outside the plant throughout the night, said that many steelworkers turned back after tiring of the long wait to move their cars ahead, inch by inch.

By morning, the traffic snarl was alleviated with only minor tie-ups at the plant entrances.

Today's episode of picketing is a continuing dispute which had erupted early last month when representatives of the Longshoremen's Union and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union registered similar protests against the use of U.S. Steel's crew and officers aboard the Columbia, a converted World War II tanker.

The longshoremen say that the job of loading or unloading the ship should be that of longshoremen.

The union said it would continue its pickets lines as long as the Columbia is at the Fairless plant.

A union spokesman at the scene said there would be no violence — just pickets.

As a precautionary measure,

Good Evening!

Another important step toward easing East-West tensions.

Agreement by the United States and the Soviet Union to make substantial reductions in production of nuclear fissionable materials, as announced yesterday by President Johnson in a major foreign policy address in New York, and by Premier Khrushchev in Moscow, we mean.

If this thing works out, it will be nearly as significant in its more positive long-range implications as was the signing of the nuclear test ban treaty.

Old Mister Sun just letting us down. Gloomy skies all over the lot.

More showers today, says the man, and even more tomorrow. This time last year farmers and gardeners were complaining about lack of rain; now they're having trouble getting their crops planted because of too much.

Ma nature had better get going with her equalizer.

Problems at Fairless Works as the International Longshoreman's Association protests steelworkers loading a company ship and fashions a picket line.

Well, this one doesn't seem to be a situation that can't be adjusted one way or another in a hurry, without much harm to anyone involved.

We see by the papers that a TV newsman was caged like an animal, badly beaten and then threatened with death if he talked by a group of lunatic Ku Klux Klansmen near Jackson, Louisiana.

We put up with a lot of things in this America of ours. But why in the name of heaven to persist in tolerating the KKK and its maniacal membership, an insidious organization infinitely more pernicious than Communism?

The best secret-keeper of modern times is the automatic clothes dryer.

Murder Suspect Faces 2nd Charge

One of the youths under arrest for the holdup slaying of Glenside grocer Eugene T. Jordan is now charged with an April 12 motel burglary.

Warminster Police Chief Paul J. Brennan said Daniel Patrick O'Neill, 18, accused of firing the shot that killed the grocer during a holdup last Thursday night, had been under surveillance for some time.

Time In Prison

According to Brennan the youth was known as a runaway and it was also known that he had spent time in jail in Los Angeles and was only recently released from Bucks County Prison.

O'Neill is also accused of the burglary at the Fiesta Motel, Easton Road near the Pennsylvania Turnpike, on April 12. Charged with the burglary along with O'Neill are Joseph McCaffrey, 21, and Robert Hillenbrand, 28.

The other youths involved in the slaying are Michael McCaffrey, Joseph's 18-year old brother, and Dave Marshall Brown. Neither of them were known to police before last Thursday's holdup.

O'Neill and the McCaffrey brothers live in Lacey Gardens, Warminster, where the brothers live together on Prinz Ave. O'Neill lives in an apartment on Hart St. The parents of the McCaffrey brothers also live in Lacey Gardens on Adams Ave.

Joseph McCaffrey is accused of driving the car used in the motel burglary. Hillenbrand, a Southampton resident, is accused as an accessory in the burglary.

Chief Brennan said that O'Neill had spent last Christmas in Bucks County Prison. He was sentenced to a term of 34 days by Judge Lawrence A. Monroe on Dec. 20 on a charge of illegal possession and transportation of liquor. A routine physical examination at the prison revealed that the youth had venereal disease.

Proper Treatment

After his release from prison, the state health department kept in touch with O'Neill and his parents to make certain he was following proper treatment.

According to Chief Brennan, this was one of the reasons police were concerned about young boys and girls going into the house occupied by O'Neill

Drugstore Owner Shot

Armed robbers entered the Bristol Terrace Cut Rate Drug Store shortly after 1 p.m. today and one of them shot a man in the leg.

Bristol Township Police converged on the scene after the three Negroes fled.

The injured man was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital.

He was identified as Sidney Lutzker, 42, of 69 Butternut Road, Blue Ridge, Levittown, the owner of the drugstore. His condition is listed as "good."

The drugstore is located on Beaver Dam Road.

Lutzker was ordered into the back room by the bandits who made him lie on the floor and piled soda cases on top of him. In their dash out of the store, they left behind a brown bag containing about $300 which the bandits had ordered Lutzker to take out of the cash register.

Budget Down, But Millage Stays Same

By CAROLYN CALKINS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

A budget of $116,337.52, with real estate tax remaining at 14 mills, was passed last night by Tullytown Borough Council but not before a hassle concerning the board's contribution to the Regional Public Library.

Last year, the borough's budget was $128,311 including $14,000 left over from 1962.

In this year's tentative budget of $116,037.52, the board had allocated $500 to the library. However, several library representatives asked the council at its last meeting to raise the sum.

The request was for $1,000. The finance committee made some adjustments and included a total of $800 to be given to the library.

$1,000 Not Paid

Council, however, has not yet paid the $1,000 it allowed the library in last year's budget. Yet the reason for it remains a mystery.

Several council members, including Anthony Biancosino and Edward Hunt, asked why the money had not been paid. No one, including last year's finance chairman, John Silvi, had the answer.

Borough treasurer William DePasquale said with only $236 left over from last year, the sum could not be paid now.

Leaves 'Black Eye'

"It leaves Tullytown with a black eye," Hunt said. "We're the only municipality in Lower Bucks that didn't pay the library."

The council also voted to terminate its police radio hook-up contract with Bristol Township. Starting July 1, Tullytown Borough will be connected with the county police radio system.

Councilman Ernest Johnson, chairman of the police committee said use of the county system will save the board $850 a year and provide the borough with better service. The board

Aiding Truck In Mud

Tractor Flips, Man Is Crushed To Death

A Falsington man was killed instantly yesterday in Richboro when a tractor he was operating to pull a truck out of mud completely flipped upside down and crushed him.

John R. Griffith, 54, was pronounced dead of a fractured skull at 12:30 p.m. by Dr. Blaine R. Garner, Newtown, deputy county coroner.

Griffith of 16 Tullytown Road, was an employe of the Northampton Valley Golf Club, where the accident occurred.

"In Split Second"

He was hauling a panel body truck out of heavy mud when his farm tractor suddenly flipped. The freakish accident happened "in a split second," according to eye-witnesses, and Griffith never had a chance to jump clear.

Northampton Township Police Chief Jack Frey said the mud was so thick that a tow truck sent to haul the tractor out also got stuck.

Griffith is survived by his wife, Gloria S.; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Clark of Hagerstown, Md.; a son, Edgar L. Griffith II of Langhorne; three grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Allen V. Hershey of Dahlgren, Va.; Mrs. Richard Shiffler of Briarcliff, N.Y.; Mrs. Herbert Hertzler of East Tawaf, Mich.; Mrs. Stewart Kuhn, of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. H. S. Moncrief of Los Angeles, Calif.; his mother and father, Edgar L. and Dorothy H. Griffith of Pittsburgh.

Funeral Thursday

Relatives and friends are invited to attend funeral services Thursday at 10 a.m. from the funeral home of John C. Black, 314 Cedar St., Bristol. Rev. Dr. Clifford G. Pollock of the Morrisville First Presbyterian Church will officiate. Interment will be in Bristol Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tomorrow evening.

Griffith's son, Edgar, 26, said his father had started work at the club as a maintenance man only 10 days ago.

Spring Showers, But Fall Weather

April showers bring May flowers but October-like temperatures aren't going to help the blooms.

That's the way the weather shapes up today with occasional rain forecast for today, tonight and tomorrow.

Today's high is expected to be in the chilly 40s. At 1 p.m. the thermometer read 45 degrees. Yesterday's high was 46.

The weatherman promises warming temperatures tomorrow with a high in the 60s.

Junior College Head Says:

Accreditation Isn't Problem For College

A Bucks County community college, should it come into being, will have no more accreditation problems than any other new collegiate institution.

This was stated today by Edmund J. Gleazer, executive director of the American Association of Junior Colleges. His statement followed reports that a Bucks County community college would not be accredited because of non-affiliation with an existing collegiate institution.

His statement also quelled the fears expressed last night by the Middletown Township School Board that a Bucks community college would not be accredited. The board proposed an accredited university extension instead.

Has Reservations

Dr. E. Robert Werner, a board member who is on the Neshaminy community college committee, reported he has "distinct reservations" about a college sponsored by the county commissioners, a proposal by chief county administrators in recent weeks.

Dr. Werner said it could draw education into "politics," since the law provides that sponsors appoint the community college trustees. He said he believes the board is not getting "the full story."

According to Gleazer, "most junior colleges (two-year institutions) are not affiliated with other institutions. This is the norm. Only a small minority are affiliated."

Few Problems

"It's true that a Bucks community college would not be accredited at first," Gleazer said, "but most colleges have to be in existence three years before being accredited. Even without accreditation, there has been little or no problems with arranging for universities to accept the transfer of students."

He disagreed with statements circulated locally that 98 per cent of the colleges do not accept students from non-accredited schools.

"Universities are well - acquainted with this problem," he stated, "and have adopted measures to facilitate transfer, particularly since this is becoming the pattern of higher education in the country."

Little Difficulty Expected

Most new colleges, he said, are placed in a "candidacy role" by accrediting associations until accreditation is granted.

He said he expected little difficulty for a Bucks County Community college to become

Miss Blatt Says Musmanno Debate Evasion 'Ungallant'

By United Press International

Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt, running for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, today said state Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno was ungallant to keep her waiting for a television debate.

Miss Blatt said Musmanno instead prefers "to engage in a sidebar feud with one of my principal supporters (Sen. Joseph S. Clark)."

Miss Blatt added the Justice "has simply refused to expose his position on the issues . . ." and "has refused at least three times to participate in a television program with me which would have allowed the Democratic voters to see and hear us both together and decide who was better qualified."

Musmanno last night contended that Clark is seeking control of the Democratic party in the state and would like to see incumbent Republican Sen. Hugh Scott reelected.

Musmanno, the Democratic organization candidate seeking to upset Scott, told a Harrisburg television panel that "there is no doubt in my mind that he (Clark) has been working closely with Sen. Scott...he has conspired and collaborated with the man who is supposed to be his political enemy."

Clark is spearheading the drive for Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt for the U.S. Senate nomination in the April 28 primary.

Party Chief

"I don't think there is any doubt that Clark would like to come out of the campaign as chief of the Pennsylvania Democratic party," Musmanno said. "It is he who has taken a dictatorial and tyrannical attitude."

From the opposing camp, Miss Blatt described as a "grandstand play" the announcement by Musmanno that he will neither sit with the current session of the Supreme Court nor accept his judicial salary for April.

Speaking at a rally in Philadelphia last night, Miss Blatt charged that Musmanno issued the statement to "cover up the fact he has violated canons of judicial ethics" in not resigning from the bench before the primary.

Award Ceremony Sunday

37 Boy Scouts To Get Eagle Badge

Thirty-seven Boy Scouts of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be presented with the Eagle Scout Badge at the 37th Eagle Court of Honor at the Lenape Jr. High School, Doylestown, on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Scouts and Scouters are invited to attend. The next Eagle Court of Honor will be held Oct. 25.

Presiding at the event will be Hon. Edward G. Biester, president judge of Bucks County Common Pleas and chairman of the Council Advancement Committee.

Assisting will be Hon. Edwin H. Satterthwaite, vice chairman of the Advancement Committee and president judge of Orphans Court; and Hon. John P. Fullam, associte Judge of the Court, and Francis P. Kemmerer of Sellersville, Scout Commissioner of the Bucks County Council.

Advancement Chairmen

The Advancement Chairman of each district will take part in the Court of Honor. They are: Frank Weik of Bristol; Eric Bratby of Penndel; William Liebig of Doylestown; and Burnett Bear of Pleasant Valley.

The Court of Honor is recognition by the Bucks County Council of the high achievement which has been made by the Eagle Scouts during the past six months.

The Bucks Council noted that although every Scout is eligible to work toward this award, not all attain the highest award of the National Court of Honor. The physical requirements are strenuous, the mental standards are high and require much more than average perseverance, and more important is the personal character of the Scout as reflected in his right attitude toward God and the ideals of Scouting.

Administration Of Oath

Another feature of the Eagle Scout Court is the administration of the Oath of Citizenship by Judge Biester to Scouts and Explorers who attained Eagle rank and have reached their 21st birthday.

The following Scouts have successfully completed the requirements and have been examined by the Eagle Board of Review and approved by the National Court of Honor and will receive their Eagle Awards Sunday.

School Dedication, County Convention

Middletown Board Faces Dilemma

Middletown Township School Board members face a "conflict of interests" when the county school board convention meets on May 27 at Franklin D. Roosevelt Junior High School, Bristol Township.

That is the same date the Middletown board picked last year for dedication ceremonies for its Dwight D. Eisenhower Elementary School, which opened for classes last September.

Son Or Brother

Either Major John Eisenhower, the ex -President's son, or Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, the ex-President's brother, will be there, it was reported last night, so the Middletown board doesn't want to miss the dedication.

M. L. "Pete" Madway, a Democrat, drew chuckles when he said that as a "non-partisan" he would attend the dedication ceremonies regardless of the convention. Madway was once the lone Democrat on the seven-man board and found himself on occasion in arguments with the Republicans. He has since been joined on the board by Democrats Lawrence Levinson and Dr. E. Robert Werner.

May Leave Early

The ex-President for whom the school is named will not be able to attend the ceremonies. But the Middletown board will be there, even if some of the members have to leave early to represent the board at the convention, it was said last night.

The board last night appointed William C. Parfitt of 31 Forsythia Drive South, Levittown, to the townshp school authority. Parfitt, a certified public accountant with Arthur Young and Co., Philadelphia, fills the vacancy caused last July by the resignation of Harry Conn.

The 40-year - old Parfitt is married and has three children. His term will expire Jan. 1, 1968.

Library Plans Expected Next Week

Preliminary plans for a $15,000 library for Walter S. Miller Elementary School, Levittown, may be presented to the Neshaminy Joint School Board for approval next week.

The Middletown Township School Board authorized the architects, Haag and d'Entremont of Jenkintown, to draw up the plans for an 1,100 square foot extension to present facilities at the school on Oxford Valley Road.

The library probably will not be reimbursable by the state, according to John Paul, Neshaminy business administrator. Under the jointure agreement, the plans must be approved by the joint board, even if Middletown itself assumes sole financial responsibility.

The Middletown board decided to seek a new library last month after school administrators and teachers described conditions to them as "crowded and inadequate."

In other action, the board authorized the purchase of 5,000 square feet of land next to the Dwight D. Eisenhower Elementary School for $700. The land, 20 feet by 250 feet, will be bought from the Sun and Fun School, Woodbourne Road, and is to be the final acquisition for the school site.

The board also heard a report from Lawrence Levinson, a member of the jointure's building and maintenance committee, on steel prefabricated schools built in Elmira, N.Y. Levinson and other committee members recently visited the schools on a trip similar to one taken by jointure administrators last November.

Levinson said he would ask the architects to consider phasing in some aspects of the Elmira construction and would ask for a complete bid on that type of school for the junior high school to be built on the Lauble site in upper Middletown.

The administration reported last November that the steel schools were attractive, economical and took less time to build than "conventional" schools. Levinson also said a school could be built partly in the conventional manner and partly in the prefabricated manner.

Don't Wear High Heels At Fair

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (UPI) Women wearing sheer nylon stockings and tight, high-heeled shoes won't last very long at the World's Fair in New York.

Dr. Jay Vizer, president of the Greater Philadelphia Podiatry Society, says that such females will last less than an hour.

"After that," he said, "they will be suffering untold agonies and will seek out a bench where they can remove their shoes and stockings."

"Men won't be immune, either," Dr. Vizer said. On a hot, stifling day they, too, will be praying for a chance to take the shoes off before long.

His advice: Wear wide-toed, firm-soled, low-heeled walking shoes and absorbent stockings.

South Headly Falls, Mass., — Barker & Williamson Inc., Bristol, a leading manufacturer ot electronic communications equipment for more than 30 years — has been acquired by Renwell Industries Inc. for $2,237,000 in cash, it was announced today by Henry L. Shensky, Renwell president.

Barker & Williamson currently produces a broad range of transmitters, radio-teletype systems and other electronic and electro-mechanical devices used with electronic communication systems. 1963 sales totaled approximately $5,500,000, with net profits reported above $250,000.

"B&W will provide Renwell with an outstanding production facility for military electronic equipment and components," Shensky said. "Coupled with our S. S. Hunter Division, which specializes in research and development, the acquisition of B&W currently expands Renwell's complete line of capabilities and services for both military and commercial electronic markets."

Shensky said that the company will be operated as a wholly - owned Renwell subsidiary and that James Pearce will continue as B&W president.

B&W has 125 employes at present. Since the company engages largely in military work, employment varies. Pearce said the company has employed over 500 in past years. Last year, he said, 300 were on the payroll.

The original office of the company was in Upper Darby, Pa. A second division was started in Bristol in 1946.

During the past year, Renwell Industries has acquired a number of diversified electronic companies. Its product line presently includes wiring harnesses, crystals, capacitors, filters, system enclosures, peripheral data processing equipment, and numerical control machines.

Purex Buys Fels And Co.

The Purex Corporation, Ltd., manufacturer of nationally distributed cleaning products, has purchased the 98-year-old Fels & Co., maker of Fels Naptha soap.

The transaction, which trade sources priced at more than $5 million, will give the Purex operations in Bristol a "neighbor" in Philadelphia. The Philadelphia plant operated by Fels, employing 400 people, is expected to produce cleaning products under the Purex Grocery Production Division. The Bristol plant employs 300 and will be "unaffected" in any way by the purchase, a spokesman said.

The Fels Foundation, which had been chief stockholder of the company, supports the Fels Institute of Local and State Government at the University of Pennsylvania and the Fels Research Institute for the Study of Human Development at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Fels & Co. recorded $17 million in net sales for 1963, compared to $127 million in net sales for the same year at Purex Corporation, Ltd. Purex is based in Lakewood, Calif.

Alan C. Stoneman, president of Purex, said the acquisition of the firm is expected to increase his company's consolidated corporate earnings by 10 per cent a share.

World's Fair Traffic Jam

Negro Leader Says Too Late To Prevent Massive Stall-In

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Negro leader said today "no power on earth" can prevent a massive civil rights stall-in demonstration tomorrow at the opening of the New York World's Fair.

"Nothing can stop it — not a court order, not police, not even Mayor (Robert F.) Wagner," the Rev. Milton A. Galamison declared.

"It's gone too far now," he said "Mayor Wagner could have stopped it by meeting with Negro leaders and giving some satisfaction to our demands . . . but it's too late now.

"The stall-in is the only way to make people in New York feel the pain out of which the Negro people are crying."

Despite a court restraining order and sharp warnings from city officials, leaders of rebellious chapters of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) thus far have refused to call off the planned demonstrations.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner scolded the organizers as men holding "a gun at the heart of the city."

A court order banning the threatened "stall-in" of more than 2,500 automobiles on major arteries leading to the fair in Queens was issued yesterday.

Observers pointed out that the stall-in plans may have gathered so much momentum the organizers may not be able to halt the demonstration.

Also threatened for the opening day of the fair was disruption of subway and Long Island Rail Road service to the fair site and sit-in blockades of key bridges and tunnels between Manhattan and the Long Island fair site.

After a meeting Monday with Queens Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor, the CORE leaders still were defiant.

"We feel the district attorney has called in the wrong people" said Bronx CORE head Herbert Callender.

"He should have spoken to Mayor Wagner and the city council who already have our demands (and) who can certainly change many things in this city," Callender said.

Plan Other Protests

National CORE leaders, who are opposed to the stall-in, meanwhile announced a series of civil disobedience protests for inside the fair.

Mayor Wagner, in his strongest statement to date on stall-in type activities, promised that "in any case the law will be enforced." A new law provides $50 fines and 30 days in jail for stalling cars on city expressways and bridges.

Cushing Says He'd Prefer Death

Cardinal Repudiates Birch Society

BOSTON (UPI)—Richard Cardinal Cushing said last night he would prefer imprisonment and death rather than be a member of the John Birch Society, and he repudiated his endorsement of it.

In an impassioned radio speech, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston said, "I would prefer imprisonment and death under a slave state than membership in an organization which has branded a martyred president of the United States a Communist."

The cardinal, at times his voice ready to break, bitterly withdrew an alleged letter of endorsement he gave four years ago regarding the Birch society and its founder, Robert Welch of suburban Belmont.

"If the statement was made that I endorsed the John Birch Society then I want to retract it. Since 1960 the John Birch Society has gone to extremes that I could never endorse," he said.

A spokesman for radio station WNAC said Cardinal Cushing's remarks were prompted by a radio broadcast which originated in New York Sunday morning during which the moderator asked Scott Stanley Jr., editor of the Birch publication "American Opinion," and attorney Thomas Davis, a Birch coordinator, whether there was any religious backing for the organization.

Stanley reportedly said it had the endorsement of Cardinal Cushing.

In answering the allegation, Cardinal Cushing said, "I was never a member of this society.

"In view of the extreme statements and articles printed or approved by this society in recent years, I could not in conscience endorse this organization nor would I be affiliated with it in any way."

To My Friends:

This season I want you to know things will be different.

You have just resumed your favorite nine-month pastime and are chasing hill and dale swinging at the little white ball. You are carrying large bags stuffed with the many weapons of your pursuit.

You are studying the lay of the land and the lie of the grass. The area you traverse is large, the goal is small, and the idea is to swing and get as little exercise as possible in a game you say you play for exercise.

You come home from these encounters ready to relate in great detail your successes and failures. You expect nonaddicts to know and appreciate hooks, slices, missed putts, par, birdies, eagles, etc. Some bring you great joy and others anguish. You expect hearers to suffer and be joyful with you depending on the course of your narrative. Your deeds seem to grow in the telling.

Leukemia Vaccine 'An Absolute Certainty'

DALLAS (UPI) — A Chicago medical researcher said Monday that a vaccine for Leukemia is "an absolute certainty. . .the next logical step" and it could be ready in 10 years.

Dr. Steven O. Schwartz, director of the Department of Hematology at the Hektoen Institute for Medical Research of Cook County Hospital, spoke as visiting professor at the Wadley Research Institute and blood bank.

"From what progress we've made. . .we're talking about something in the really foreseeable future," he said.

"There was a time when a vaccine was an idle dream, he said. "Now it is an absolute certainty in my mind. It is the next logical step."

Leukemia is a blood disease in which white corpuscles increase to abnormal amounts in the circulatory system.

Dr. Schwartz said research has indicated the disease is caused by a low-powered virus.

To back up the contention, he cited a study performed in Niles, Ill., which had a "cluster" of leukemia cases. Several such clusters were found in various sections of the country, he said.

The so-called "Niles-cluster" and others all produced a 2,000 per cent or better rate of incidence of the disease than they should have according to their population.

Council OKs 1964 $80,440 Budget

By BEN McELVEEN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Yardley Borough Council last night lowered the tax rate by one mill as it adopted a final 1964 budget of $80,440.

The one mill reduction will mean about a $3.60 cut in taxes this year for the average homeowner in the borough.

The new mill rate is 19, compared with 1963's 20 mill rate.

The new $80,440 budget is an increase of about $5,000 over last year's budget of $75,489.

Both last year and in the new budget, $12,000 of this represents money anticipated to be spent and which must be borrowed prior to the intake of tax revenue.

Minus Allocation

Thus, the total budget for 1964 would come to $68,440 compared with last year's $63,489 if this $12,000 item were omitted.

Fred Bebbington, borough solicitor and secretary, explained that the council was able to lower the mill rate for two reasons.

One, he said the assessment is up, and two, a sum allocated last year for capital reserve funds was paid off and will not be necessary in the new budget. et.

He figured that an average homeowner with a house assessed at $12,000 paid $72 last year in taxes at 20 mills, but this year would have to pay at 19 mills roughly $68.40 — a $3.60 reduction.

Major Expenses

The major increase in the budget was for the police department. The 1963 total budgeted to police was $15,724, compared to $17,370 in the new.

Bebbington explained that the increase represents money set aside for additional part-time policemen to be used in the borough.

The llocation for streets and highways was $8,100 in 1963 and is $13,900 in 1964. The garbage and trash collection fee budgeted last year was $7,850 compared to $8,300 this year.

Another increase in the budget was the allocation to the Lower Makefield - Yardley Recreation Board. This figure rose from $750 to $1,250.

Bebbington said the per capita tax will remain the same, $6, as last year.

Councilman Al Starner moved to adopt the budget, and Councilman Ted Ziaylak seconded. The motion passed unanimously. John Cole, council president, presided at the meeting in Borough Hall.

Other Action

In other action, the council—

— Set aside the first part of May for clean-up, fix-up, paint-up week and designated Councilman Carl Rembe, who is sanitation chairman, to direct the borough activities.

— Appointed Mrs. Al Starner, wife of the councilman, to the post of the police matron to handle any women who might be committed to the town jail. There will be no salary.

— Discussed a sharp curve on S. Main St. where several recent accidents have occurred. One resident, praise the council for painting the curb white in the area, but asked if nothing more might not be done. The council plans to take the matter to the state highway department.

M'field Unit OKs Request

A resolution was adopted last night by the Lower Makefield Board of Supervisors requesting the State Highway Department to recognize a county census.

The supervisors also instructed William H. Struwe, township manager, to send the resolution to the highway department.

Supervisor William Mackensen Jr. explained that state aid for road work is based on two factors — road lengths and township population.

Population Up

He said that since the township population has risen from 8,600 to the present $10,000, additional state aid may be obtained.

Thus, the supervisors will ask the county census figures to be recognized, rather than having to take a census themselves.

Peter F. Campbell, chairman, presided at the meeting in the township municipal building.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) —A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma —the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN —available at all drug stores without prescription.

White lines hold the road like a Wide-Track Pontiac.

If this Wide-Track Pontiac Catalina clung to the highway any closer, it'd be a coat of paint. Pitch and sway, Wide-Tracks don't. They corner flat, through high-speed turnpike curves or vicious backroad S's. (They also turn corduroy roads to gabardine.) Why sit here yearning? You could be out driving a Catalina yourself.
